MARCH IN MARCH

March in March and Advocacy Day is an event that raised awareness for the needs of all college students and advocate for their educational needs at the state level. RC Associated Student Government Senator of Public Relations Kimberly Camacho, Student Representative Sarahi Sanchez Soto, and ASG advisor Vanessa Leyva attended the march in Sacramento March 4. Our students had the opportunity to interact with other students from across California. Students marched alongside other SCCC student leaders to the State Capitol where they were encouraged by speakers and the attending community to continue fighting for their futures and seats at the table. "Our presence was essential to service our students as we brought an unwavering spirit and sense of commitment to fight any sentiments and beliefs that threaten our education and identity," Sanchez-Soto said. The march started at Southside Park and ended at the State Capitol Building.

RESOLUTIONS TOWN HALL

In preparation for the Student Senate for California Community Colleges (SSCCC) General Assembly Conference, the RCASG delivered a formal presentation and facilitated an in-depth discussion on the 2025 SSSCC Resolutions. We began by introducing SSSCC, highlighting its role and significance in advocating for community college students. The discussion then focused on the details of the resolutions, allowing students to engage in meaningful dialogue and ask any questions they had. This town hall serves as a valuable platform for gathering student input, ensuring that RCASG effectively represents their interests at every level.

A2MEND SUMMIT

RC's A2MEND (African-American Male Education Network & Development) chapter attended the 18th annual A2MEND Summit March 6-7 at the Hyatt Regency in Los Angeles. Five students went with advisors Dr. Samuel Morgan, Dr. Darlene Murray, and Johnathon Hedrington. Prominent African-American figures in the Los Angeles area took time to speak to our group about academic and personal goals with words of motivation and affirmation. The "Standing on Business" Summit brought together black male college students and educators to encourage and identify innovative ideas to increase the success of black male students in California's Community College system.

REEDLEY COLLEGE COLTS

No, we don't have a new mascot, but our farm welcomed three brand new colts to the family in March. Ivy gave birth to Cody in late February, while Nynx and Crystal had their baby boys just hours apart from each other March 12. We are still awaiting the names of the two younger colts. When it comes to new additions, we definitely aren't horsing around!
